

Education and Outreach Volunteer Positions Available!

Do You...

- Love being outdoors?
- Care about the environment?
- Enjoy teaching youth and / or adults?
- Want to learn more about the natural world?

We need people who are FUN, flexible, and willing to learn, share and teach about the plants and wildlife of the Arboretum and the Northwest.

Free training is provided between late January and March 2009!

Adult Tours:

- Engage local and international visitors by leading tours for one of the largest public gardens in the U.S.

Seedlings and Saplings:

- Teach children about plants, stewardship and science in a 230-acre outdoor classroom.

Visitor Services:

- Greet, share and inform the public about UW Botanic Gardens and its unique plant collections.

For more information and to apply, please call 206-543-8801 or email uwbgeduc@u.washington.edu

Spread the seeds of knowledge!