Special Issue: Social theory in drug research, drug policy and harm reduction

EDITORIAL
Social theory in drug research, drug policy and harm reduction
D. Moir, T. Rhodes (Australia, U.K.) .................................................. 321-322

COMMENTS/ARTICLES
Revisiting women and drug use: gender sensitivity, embodiment and reducing harm
F. Etterre (UK) .......................................................... 327-335

Play space: historical and socio-cultural reflections on drugs, licensed lesser locations, commercialisation and control
P. Measham (UK) ........................................................ 337-345

Representations of family: a review of the alcohol and drug literature
J.C. Bierke, G. Hunt (USA) ..................................................... 347-356

ORIGINAL PAPERS
Drug use, risk and urban order: examining supervised injection sites (SISs) as 'governmentality'
B. Fischer, S. Tumshull, J. Poland, E. Heydon (Canada) ................. 357-365

Anarchy and commitment in the risk society: theorising young people and drug prevention policy
M. Jones (U.K.) ........................................................... 367-376

Managing risk and survival blood associated with drug injecting: implications for theorising harm reduction for viral health
M. Doris, T. Rhodos (UK) .......................................................... 377-384

Drug use as a 'privilege of the elite': is there any place for an 'ethics of moderation' in contemporary drug policy?
C. Deuff (Australia) .......................................................... 385-393

Talking about drug use: what do we (and our participants) doing in qualitative research?
A. Marta, P. Souter (UK) ........................................................ 395-405

Fear of harm in street heroin markets
J.L. Fitzgerald, T. Threadgold (Australia, U.K.) .............................. 407-417

 Democratizing the generative capacities of crime—lined 'drugs'
D. Moore (Canada) .......................................................... 419-428

The ethics of not taking a stand: dilemmas of drug and alcohol prevention in a consumer society—a case study
P. Suliksen, K. Ranta, M. Mänttäri (Finland) .................................. 427-434

HISTORICAL ANALYSIS
Medical theories of opiate addiction's pathology and their relationship to addicts' perceived social position in the United States: an historical analysis
H. Cooper (USA) .......................................................... 435-445

Instructions to Authors .............................................................. 447-449

Author Index .......................................................... 450-455

Subject Index .......................................................... 451-455

Volume Contents .......................................................... 456-458

This journal is part of ContentsDirect, the free alerting service which sends tables of contents by e-mail for Elsevier books and journals. You can register for ContentsDirect online at: http://contentdirect.elsevier.com

Also available on

www.sciencedirect.com