CONTENTS
SEPTEMBER/OCTOBER 2004 • VOLUME 24, NUMBER 5

COVER STORIES
20 Suicide Prevention: A Call to Action for EAPs
An MBRO/EAP develops tools to educate employers and their employees about suicide by Rich Paul, MSW, CEAP, and Paul Courtois, MBA, MSW

27 Addiction in the Workplace
An enlightened approach will save the bottom line
by Cheryl Lowe, MSW, SPHR

30 Assessing and Monitoring Fitness to Work
A look at Web-based resources for accurate employee evaluation
by Billy Joyce Robera

FEATURE ARTICLES
33 A Business Case for Increasing College Mental Health Services
by Timothy M. Osberg, PhD

37 On Campus, in Recovery, but Without Support
by Andrew J. Finch, PhD

42 Chronicking the Growth of an Addictions Conference
by Ronald J. Hunsicker, D Min

46 Late-Life Depression: Old Truths and New Lessons
by Ira R. Katz, MD

50 The Accreditation Process Is What You Make of It
by Lesa Yawn, PhD, JD

SPECIAL SECTION
51 Pharmacologic Trends in Behavioral Health: Psychiatric Polypharmacy and Children. The 8th installment in a yearlong series on drug therapies' impact on patient treatment and management

DEPARTMENTS
6 Editorial
What's It to Work in the Modern Era?
by Monica E. Oto, Editor-in-Chief

9 Guest Editorial
What to Do When the "System" Fails Patients
by William M. Glazer, MD

13 Washington Insights Children in Realms
by Michael L. Stall, PhD

16 In Retrospect
Community Behavioral Health and Information Technology: A Tale of Two Funders by William R. Herman, PhD, ABPP, and George Epstein, MBA

56 Facility Design Showcase
The Phoenix Career Academy
Brooklyn, New York

58 Views on Technology
Behavioral Health Can Be High-Tech and High-Touch
by Pamela Phillips, RN

61 Product Spotlight

62 As I See It
Providers Can Help End Workplace Bias Against Gays and Lesbians
by Douglas J. Edwards, Managing Editor

64 Views From the Trenches
How Many Associations Do We Need?
by J. Chip Dratos, MSW, CEAP, Associate Publisher