Staff: Piper Krauel, Christina Hamilton, Stacy Holmes, Kristina Riemer, Sarena Seifer and Rachel Vaughn

Topic: Transfer of Board Leadership
Discussion: Douglas began his one-year term as board chair and Elmer began his one-year term as board chair-elect. Tom was thanked and congratulated on his leadership as board chair for this past year.

Topic: Ends Monitoring Report
Discussion: The discussion began with a brief refresher on ends. Ends address what the organization is for, not what it does. Ends address the issues of what benefit, for whom and at what cost. Only those concepts included in the ends justify the organization’s existence. The board sets the ends and the CEO interprets them. The conversation on ends and monitoring ends is a fluid process. When reviewing the Ends Monitoring Report, the board should be asking: Is this a reasonable interpretation? Are any proposals needed to come in a little tighter on an end? Is it an issue of language/style? Is it an issue of depth? The board can always go deeper in clarifying what it means by its ends. Board members agreed that this report is a great first step, and offered suggestions of how to improve the report content and format:
  ▪ From a readability perspective; possibly structure it to answer the three questions: what benefit, for whom, at what cost?
  ▪ The report should focus more on the costs of ends – both costs to the owners the broader costs to the organization.
  ▪ The report reads too much like an evaluation report that presents only positive findings. It should also address key issues and challenges facing the organization as it relates to our ends.

Action:
  ▪ The board unanimously accepted the Ends Monitoring Report. Paul made the motion and Daniel seconded it.
  ▪ Sarena will incorporate suggested changes into the next report.

Topic: CCPH Ends Policy
Discussion: The board discussed the ends statement adopted at the last board meeting. Board members voiced the need to continually address “the big picture” and to answer the question “why do we exist?” All agreed that we do not promote and pursue partnerships just for the sake of partnerships. CCPH is not solely process oriented/process driven. CCPH is pushing the partnership approach to decrease health disparities and increase workforce diversity. CCPH is a vehicle for informing communities and campuses about community-campus partnership strategies in these areas. During the discussion, a consensus emerged that eliminating health disparities and increasing workforce diversity needs to be explicitly emphasized in our ends statements.
Action:
The board unanimously approved the original global ends statement and revisions to the rest of the ends statement (see final approved policy below). Tom/Richard, Renee/Tom, and Tom/Diane proposed and seconded the various amendments involved in this new statement.

   a. Resources are available to build and maintain community-campus partnerships
   b. Comprehensive knowledge is available about the nature and outcomes of community-campus partnerships.
   c. Institutional, organizational and governmental policies support community-campus partnerships.
2. Health disparities are reduced in communities.
3. The health workforce, broadly defined, is more diverse and community responsive.

Topic: Agenda Setting

Discussion: The board discussed these questions:
- What tangible benefits does the board want to get out of future meetings?
- What information, resources, literature, research, etc., does the board need to assess the status of each end and make decisions about making changes to the end?
- In what ways can board connect with owners to obtain some of this information?

In discussing these questions, board members made suggestions for future board meetings, including:
- Follow a defined process for reviewing ends reports

- Discuss information gathered from owners and members about what they think
- Discuss information on advocacy and lobbying
