Feelings Children Have

All children who have been molested have some worries and feelings they don’t like and may not understand. Listed below are some of the feelings children have had. Please check or color over those feelings you may be having or have had:

- “The touching was my fault.”
- “I caused a lot of problems.”
- “I feel different from other kids my age.”
- “I feel really sad all the time.”
- “I should be in trouble too.”
- “I’m really scared, and I don’t know what to do.”
- “I should have been able to stop the touching.”
- “I made more trouble by telling.”
- “Nobody understands how I feel.”

Other feelings you have had:

________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________
________________________________________________________________

Harborview CBT+ 03