MODULE 6:
Putting It All Together…developing a family-centered plan

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

After completing this module, you will have the skills and resources to:

• Use growth, medical, and intake data to formulate a nutrition care plan
• Incorporate measurable outcomes for evaluation of the plan
• Include community services and programs in a nutrition care plan

RESOURCES

Developing a Plan

Family-Centered Care

Institute for Family-Centered Care. This non-profit organization is a resource for policy makers, administrators, program planners, direct service providers, educators, and family members. The website includes information about resources related to family-centered care, including publications and videos, newsletters, seminars, and presentations. The website also features a bulletin board to promote discussion about issues related to family-centered care. http://www.familycenteredcare.org/

Family Voices. Family Voices works toward addressing the common challenges that all children with special health care needs face. Their advocacy efforts revolve around three basic principles that the organization believes should be part of health care reform: family-centered care, community-based services, and parent-professional collaboration. The site serves as a national clearinghouse for information and resources. http://www.familyvoices.org.

Family Village. This easy-to-navigate site describes itself as a global community on the Internet for families of persons who have disabilities. It has a wealth of information, resources, and web site connections for people with disabilities and their families and service providers. http://familyvillage.wisc.edu.