

Community Capital Framework	Possible examples explained	Question to measure	Question to measure	Question to measure	Question to measure
Built Capital	Facility evaluations. Public rights-of-way assessment. Evaluation of parks, recreation, trails; fairgrounds; community centers; public entertainment, sports and other centers, arenas, etc.	Local and state governments are expected to have a "Self- Evaluation" of their services, activities, program and facilities. If more than 50 FTE, the government must also have a Transition Plan to correct shortcomings. Has the local governments website been reviewed for conformance with accessibility standards?	Does your jurisdiction issue building permits for new and altered commercial construction? Does your jurisdiction require permits and inspections for their own facilities?	Prior to permit issuance, does your jurisdiction require a review of building plans, blueprints or document for new or altered commercial construction? Does your jurisdiction require new or upgraded sidewalks in the public right of way when new commercial or residential construction is undertaken?	Are grants or other state or federal funding sources pursued that finance accessibility related projects? Are grants or other state or federal funding sources pursued that require ADA compliance as a component of the grant?
Human Capital	Utilization of available ADA resources, support or guidance. Partnership with disabled community. Governance input and collaboration from Independent Living Centers, Services for Independent Living,, and persons with disabilities.	The Great Plains ADA Center provides training, support, technical assistance and guidance on the Americans with Disabilities Act. Has your jurisdiction participated in or benefitted by the trainings and assistance from the ADA Center?	How has the Great Plains ADA Center assisted your government jurisdiction?	Has your local government contacted or used the services of any of the agencies listed regarding the ADA? Do any of the local government's leaders, managers or employees have a disability that qualifies under the ADA?	What do you see as the top three accessibility needs the Great Plains ADA Center can assist with in your jurisdiction?
Social Capital	Input and collaboration from and with disability community and associated advocates. Creation of a local Human Rights commissions. Input and collaboration from Independent Living Centers, Services for Independent Living, schools for disabilities, and persons with disabilities.	Does your jurisdiction employ a designated individual - sometimes called an ADA Coordinator – to oversee Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) policies, grievances, implementation, and employment issues?	In what Division or department of your jurisdiction is the ADA Coordinator housed?	What is the approximate percentage of time the person acting as the ADA Coordinator is expected to commit to accessibility duties?	Does the ADA Coordinator have a centralized association or organization locally or regionally for support, knowledge, guidance? Is the Society for Human Resources, Clerks Associations, League of Cities or Counties, or International Code Council Influential in governance and education about the ADA?
Financial Capital	Pursuit of state or federal grants or other sources of funding directly attributable to improving accessibility. Budgetary policies focused on investment in accessible infrastructure. Budgetary policies focused on staffing ADA Coordinator or associated positions.	In your opinion, what is the level of fiscal commitment of your local government for ADA improvements in programs, services activities or facilities of the community? In your opinion, what is the level of fiscal commitment your local government toward appropriate staffing levels and position classifications for persons to implement ADA policies and regulations?	Does the local jurisdiction have a disability driven budgeting focus or mandate? Have local organizations, businesses, social or philanthropic organizations contributed funds to your local government toward improving of ADA accessibility?	Has your local government or a surrounding community been in a settlement or consent agreement or other type of legal remedy involving penalties and/or fines with any Federal or State agency regarding the local governments shortcomings or failure to meet accessibility regulations?	Has your community created any funding mechanisms such as budget line-items, bond initiatives or other locally generated responses in order to finance the remedy set out in a settlement or consent agreement involving penalties and/or fines with any Federal or State agency?

Political Capital	Involve disability advocates in decision making	In your opinion, how influential is the disability community in the policy making of your government?	How influential is your Transition Plan on the policy making in your jurisdiction?	Local government enforce the ADA, International Building Code, State Accessibility Codes? Does your local government have established policies encouraging employment of person with disabilities?
Cultural Capital	Disability inclusion in community through employment within the government and by local, private employers. Modern rights of way and other facilities infrastructure reflecting budget driven accessibility focus. Accessible government websites. Private and public partnerships toward employment or other inclusive community programs. Completion of self-evaluations and transition plans. Latino and Asian access to knowledge resources or differences, not just disabilities.	Does your jurisdiction employ a designated individual - sometimes called an ADA Coordinator – to oversee Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) policies, grievances, implementation, and employment issues? In what Division or department of your jurisdiction. How aware is your local jurisdiction of cultural challenges in serving others? Laws that related to disabilities act? are you aware of other cultures? documents, sign language interpreters offered?	To what extent does your local jurisdiction interact with agencies or other organizations that work with persons with disabilities?	What employment policies has your jurisdiction implemented to ensure person with disabilities are not discriminated against in interviewing, hiring, or other employment processes?
Natural Capital	Identify local government committeemen toward overcoming challenging topography or geographic elements. Parks and recreation that include accessible features in challenging terrains, etc. Proper engineering designs and support for construction of high slopes for sidewalks, crosswalks, driveway cuts.	Skip Logic: Does your jurisdiction recreational areas, like parks, trails, access to lakes and rivers that include high slope or challenging terrain for persons with mobility impairments, such as wheelchair users? To what extent does your jurisdiction ensure that public trails, bodies of water, natural scenic areas and other natural attractions are proactively designed or altered to ensure disability access?	Identify natural resources programs with opportunities for pwd to interact in the natural environment with a checklist?	In your opinion what is the level of your local governments commitment to ensuring natural resources areas such as parks, trails, lakes, etc., are accessible to PWD?	