May Yield On Berlin Currency

Move by Western Powers Would Be Met by Russ Lifting Berlin Blockade

BERLIN, Sept. 2.—The western powers appeared today to be yielding to Russia's demands that only her German currency be allowed in the blocked Berlin.

A western retreat on that point quite likely will mean a lifting of the 71-day-old Russian land blockade and an end to the expensive Berlin currency blockade.

Four-power talks aimed at ending the Berlin deadlock reached the third day and secret talks in London and Washington are continuing.

The three working committees believed to have instructions from the military agencies in Berlin are now working on the four-power Moscow proposals.

Next for 24 Hours: Western powers' military governors lasted three hours in a British counterpart General Hastings Ismay's conference.

Clay told newsmen after the session was over that what progress is being made in the parity.

Berlin anti-Communist conference decided at a meeting yesterday to approach the military agencies for proposals for a voice in the negotiations.

They emphasized their opposition to the main Allied Control Council conference now in session.

Stassen in View, Claims Agricultural Dept. Has Prevented Downward Trend

By HARVIN L. ARBOVINSKY ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 2.—Harold E. Stassen today charged that the Agricultural Department has prevented a "deliberate attempt to stop the downward trend of food prices."

Stassen, who was defeated for the Republican presidential nomination last year, said the Agricultural Department's action is "a deliberate attempt to stop the downward trend of food prices."

Stassen said he had written a letter to the Agricultural Department last week, pointing out that the department's action was "a deliberate attempt to stop the downward trend of food prices."
