

THAO HA

Targeted Rural Underserved Track

Idaho

Entering Class of 2014

TRUST seeks to provide a continuous connection between rural, small city underserved communities, medical education, and health professionals in our region. Our goal is to create a full-circle pipeline by guiding qualified students through a special curriculum that connects continuity communities in WWA-MI to the University of Washington School of Medicine and its network of affiliated residency programs in an effort to help meet the workforce needs of the region.

My name is Thao Ha, and I am very excited to call myself a first year medical student at UWSOM! I am originally from Vietnam, and moved here with my parents at the age of seven. Since then, we have lived in the Boise/Meridian, Idaho area. I attended the College of Idaho in Caldwell, Idaho, and have had the pleasure of working with and learning about the Canyon County community. I am very excited to continue my work with this community in the future through my role as a TRUST Scholar at the Nampa site. My goal is to return to my community as a physician, to work with low income families and aid in providing more people with quality healthcare. For fun, I enjoy testing new recipes in the kitchen, watching comedies and detective shows, and shoe shopping. I also love to learn new things, so I'm definitely looking forward to medical school and all the knowledge it has in store!
