Targeted Rural Underserved Track

WWAMI
TRUST
UW MEDICINE

Idaho

Entering Class of 2016

TRUST seeks to provide a continuous connection between rural, small city underserved communities, medical education, and health professionals in our region. Our goal is to create a full-circle pipeline by guiding qualified students through a special curriculum that connects continuity communities in WWAMI to the University of Washington School of Medicine and its network of affiliated residency programs in an effort to help meet the workforce needs of the region.

Greetings Nampa!

My name is Brandon Comish. I claim Grace and Pocatello as home towns and have been to Nampa once or twice! My wife, Andrea, and son, Leot, are coming with me on this next big adventure. It has been a long road to get here and filled with so many wonderful experiences I hope to share with you. Likewise, I hope you can add to those experiences as you share your history with me.

At Idaho State I studied anthropology, nutrition and Spanish. Along the way I also studied ballroom dance, French, Chinese, capoeira, polished my judo skills, and collaborated with some amazing professors to provide humanitarian aid in India and South America.

I love playing the guitar and reading fantasy fiction, working out and relaxing with movies and video games. To get through my studies I have worked as a janitor, carpenter, painter, salesman and tutor. I can therefore honestly say I am most looking forward to focusing exclusively on my medical studies. I am excited to work with you in the coming years. Cheers!

Thank you for welcoming me into your community!

See you soon! Brandon
