Eastern Washington—Chelan

Entering Class of 2016

TRUST seeks to provide a continuous connection between rural, small city underserved communities, medical education, and health professionals in our region. Our goal is to create a full-circle pipeline by guiding qualified students through a special curriculum that connects continuity communities in WWAMI to the University of Washington School of Medicine and its network of affiliated residency programs in an effort to help meet the workforce needs of the region.

Hello Chelan!

My name is Miguel Sotelo and I am excited to get to know the community. I was born and raised in Tieton, WA, where I learned to enjoy a rural and small-town type of lifestyle. This year, I graduated from Washington State University with a Biology major, with a large background in psychology research. During my time at WSU, I studied abroad for one semester to Costa Rica and twice to Guatemala for week-long mission trips. I also had the opportunity to work in a psychology lab where I worked with infants and toddlers. The time I spent as a volunteer at an ER in Idaho, combined with my other experiences in college have definitely helped craft my interests within medicine.

In my free time I enjoy tutoring, exercising, outdoor and gym climbing, and route-setting for indoor climbing gyms. I am thrilled to meet the healthcare team in Chelan, and I hope to learn a great deal through this unique experience.
