Entering Class of 2016

TRUST seeks to provide a continuous connection between rural, small city underserved communities, medical education, and health professionals in our region. Our goal is to create a full-circle pipeline by guiding qualified students through a special curriculum that connects continuity communities in WWAMI to the University of Washington School of Medicine and its network of affiliated residency programs in an effort to help meet the workforce needs of the region.

Greetings Jerome!

My name is Matthew Ward and I am thrilled to be the new Idaho TRUST Scholar assigned to the Jerome community!

I grew up in Mountain Home and enjoy the small town atmosphere Idaho has to offer. I'm married to a beautiful wife, have the sweetest little girl and we would love nothing more than finding a great Idaho town to raise a family and practice medicine. I completed my undergraduate degree at Brigham Young University – Idaho with a major in Exercise Physiology and a minor in Chemistry. I am an avid outdoorsman and love hunting, fishing, backpacking, and anything else that gets me out and into the woods.

Jerome is a great town and I can't wait to learn more about practicing medicine in the type of community that I hope to someday live.

Thank you for welcoming me into your community!

See you soon!

Matthew
