Entering Class of 2016

TRUST seeks to provide a continuous connection between rural, small city underserved communities, medical education, and health professionals in our region. Our goal is to create a full-circle pipeline by guiding qualified students through a special curriculum that connects continuity communities in WWAMI to the University of Washington School of Medicine and its network of affiliated residency programs in an effort to help meet the workforce needs of the region.

Hello McCall!

I am a father of three boys and left an engineering career to come to medical school so I could make a difference in individual lives. I grew up in southern Idaho on a small farm where I was taught to work hard and when time permitted to play hard.

I am excited to be a WWAMI Idaho medical student because of the exceptional student instructor ratio and the opportunity to spend time in rural Idaho communities, which is where I want to practice as a future physician.

I am an outdoor enthusiast and especially love the challenge of mountaineering and the sweet experience of an early morning ride in the mountains when the air is still and crisp. If it says mountain, white (water or snow), or rock count me in.

I am very thankful for this wonderful opportunity and ready to get to work
