Targeted Rural Underserved Track

POWELL, WYOMING

Entering Class of 2018

TRUST seeks to provide a continuous connection between rural, small city underserved communities, medical education, and health professionals in our region. Our goal is to create a full-circle pipeline by guiding qualified students through a special curriculum that connects continuity communities in WWAMI to the University of Washington School of Medicine and its network of affiliated residency programs in an effort to help meet the workforce needs of the region.

Hello, Powell!

My name is Amanda Golden and I am extremely excited to serve as Powell's E2018 TRUST Scholar. I was born and raised a few miles away in Cody and have many fond memories of visiting my father at work in Powell and getting lunch with him. I have recently earned my Bachelor of Science in Psychology with minors in Biochemistry, Humanities in Medicine, and Child, Youth, and Family Studies from the University of Nebraska-Lincoln. While I have loved living in Nebraska and cheering on the Cornhuskers, I am thrilled to be returning home to begin my medical training.

I love to travel and have been extremely fortunate to have numerous opportunities to see the world. I spent a summer studying abroad in Dublin, Ireland. I also participated in two MEDLIFE medical mission trips, one to Cusco, Peru and one to Riobamba, Ecuador. This summer I will be traveling to Livingstone, Zambia for a few weeks for volunteer work. While in undergrad, I was also extremely involved on campus. I was the president of MEDLIFE, a member of the Gamma Phi Beta sorority, the Dancer Relations Director for Dance Marathon, and a senior counselor for the Nebraska Human Resource Institute, among many other involvements. I also had the chance to work for the University Health Center's Health Promotion and Outreach Office as well as cuddle babies as a student teacher at the UNL Children's Center. In my limited free time, I enjoy watching Netflix, reading, and spending time with my family and two dogs.

I am so excited to meet you all this summer!
