GPSS Senate Meeting

April 19, 2017

"Spring Time Activities"

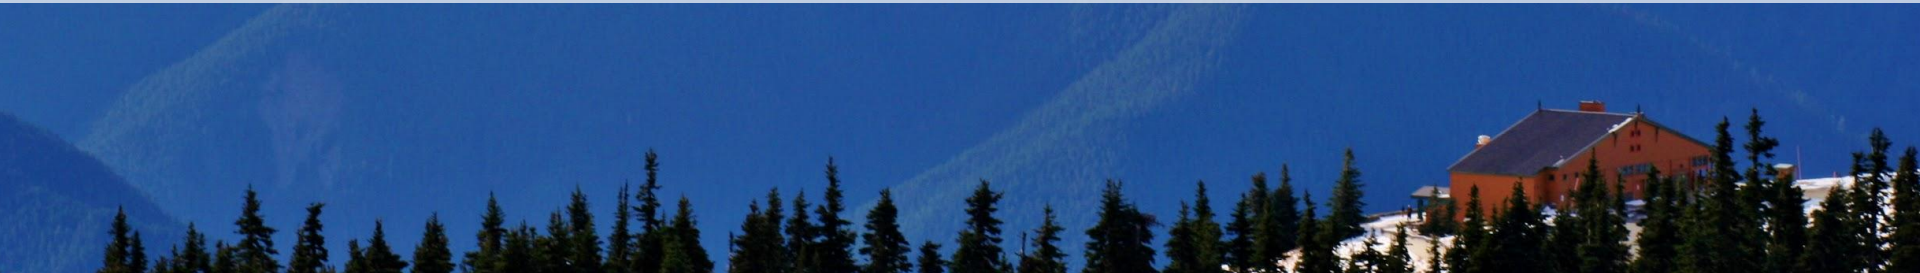

*Visit Pike Place

Call to Order

*Check out the Olympics

A scenic landscape of a bay with a wooden fence in the foreground, a person in the water, and forested hills in the background. The scene is captured in a wide-angle shot, showing a calm body of water reflecting the sky. In the foreground, a rustic wooden fence runs across the frame. A person is visible in the water, creating a small splash. The background features rolling hills covered in dense green forest under a clear blue sky.

Approval of the Agenda

*Visit Orcas Island

A large white ferry with a green upper section is sailing on the ocean. The ferry has multiple decks and a prominent cabin structure. In the background, there are large, rugged mountains with patches of snow under a clear sky. The water is dark blue with white foam from the ferry's wake.

Approval of the Minutes

*Catch a Ferry

*Shuck some Oysters

A scenic view of a lake with mountains in the background and a person kayaking in the foreground. The image is split into two horizontal sections. The top section shows a wide view of a lake with a person kayaking in the distance, surrounded by forested mountains and snow-capped peaks under a clear blue sky. The bottom section shows a close-up, first-person perspective from the front of a yellow kayak, looking out over the calm water. The text is overlaid on the top section.

A Resolution in Support of Paid Leave for May 1st Day of Action and Resistance

*Kayak on Lake Chelan

The background of the slide features a photograph of the Space Needle tower in Seattle, Washington, illuminated at dusk. The tower's top observation deck is brightly lit, and the sky transitions from a deep blue at the top to a warm orange and red glow near the horizon. Silhouettes of mountains are visible in the lower portion of the image.

CYBER SAFETY 101

The following tips are provided to help manage and safeguard your digital information and online presence.

PRIVACY

- Develop a strategy for how to interact online, including tactics for dealing with conflicts.
- Think long-term: Once you share information online, it can be difficult or even impossible to remove your digital fingerprint.
- Make informed decisions about the privacy of your identity, location, affiliations and actions.
- Before you act, think about the intended and unintended uses of information.
- Review what information is available about you online.
- Be aware of the open and private aspects of online groups, forums and comment sections.

SECURITY

- Secure confidential and personal information on devices.
- Use encryption.
- Review good password practices; don't reuse passwords for different accounts.
- Remember: Data sent over public wireless networks, as well as information on public computers and kiosks, may be accessed by others.

PREPARE

- Review and consider modifying privacy preferences on devices, browsers and apps.
- Verify that privacy settings align with your privacy strategy.
- Control who can view your profile, contact information and posts.
- Limit location services to the apps and friends you want to track you.

REPORT

- Cyberstalking is a crime.
- If you see anything that is an imminent threat to your physical safety or that of others, call 911.
- Report incidents of cyberstalking or cyber harassment to the UWPD at 206-685-UWPD.
- For security concerns about UW systems, accounts and information, email help@uw.edu.

If you are experiencing online behavior that raises safety concerns, SafeCampus can help provide support and connect you to resources: 206-685-SAFE (7233) or safecampus@uw.edu.
