What is the study about?

Lewy Body Dementia (LBD) can affect all areas of a person's life. However, currently, it is difficult to identify and treat. By gathering clinical information from LBD patients, we hope to create a robust resource for future researchers to find better ways to identify and treat the disease.

Who are we looking for?

People with:

- Dementia with Lewy Bodies
- Parkinson's Disease Dementia
- Parkinson's with mild cognitive impairment
- Mild cognitive impairment and are a risk of developing LBD
