Recommendations:

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Slote,

It has indeed been a delight to work with Nancy during her kindergarten year. She is a sweet, alert, responsive little girl, and the sight of her happy, round and rosy little face has been enough to cheer one on the darkest morning.

Nancy is friendly and outgoing toward all, ever ready to lend a helping hand to child or adult, and quick to take under her wing anyone who has been wronged or injured. She takes her responsibilities very seriously, and was very faithful in attendance upon Miss Sterling in the library as a "helper". Her behavior is steady and dependable, and she has a good understanding of our rules and regulations.

Nancy keeps herself well occupied, sometimes engaging in active group play, sometimes in sedentary pursuits. She gets along well with a small group, and is very social as she works on her individual projects also. She is a good worker and shows progress in technique and content. She cares for her materials well and takes pride in her finished products.

Nancy has a keen sense of "belonging" to the group. She is tremendously interested in all that concerns us, and loves to explore the room in the morning to discover new materials, changes in the development of our plants or animals etc. She has especially loved our succession of animals. She has participated with interest in our various group activities and experiences, and has made them her own. She gives excellent attention in a group situation, and is growing in ability to take part in discussions and conversations.

Nancy loves books, stories, and poems. She greatly enjoys music, and has found our sessions with Mrs. Crosman high spots of each week.

Nancy will enter First Grade in September. I am confident that she is ready for the subject matter learnings she will encounter there, and shall follow her progress with interest.

Best wishes to you all for a pleasant summer.

Sincerely yours

Teacher
