

Media Production Training

What: Media Production Workshop

Who should attend? Teens with an interest in Media Production

Where? Contact ESD 112 for one scheduled in your area

About the Workshop:

This Media Production Workshop will give students the opportunity to polish up on their technical skills and learn more about the media production process from start to finish. This interactive workshop will feature a 2 hour session on Media Literacy 101 and a 4 hour “hands on” session on video production.

About the Trainer:

Willy Kunkle is a young adult videographer and Portland State University media student. Willy has extensive experience with media production and has shared his creative energy, knowledge and expertise with youth throughout Southwest Washington.

Training is sponsored by SW Washington Media Literacy Partnership; NW Center for Excellence in Media Literacy, University of Washington; and funded through the Washington State Department of Health. Contact Dianne Keely, ESD 112 (360) 750-7500
