

COE Writing Workshops

The Writing Center and Office of International Student Support in College of Education are offering writing workshops for winter quarter 2008. This series of workshops aims to sharpen your basic skills, i.e., reading and writing, for doing your research and academic studies effectively. International students are strongly encouraged to attend. Open to all majors. Bring your own work and questions.

Topic	Reading/researching effectively
Time & Place	7-8PM, Tues, Jan 22, Miller 212 or 12-1PM, Thu, Jan 24, Miller 424 (lab)
Description	Do you only have 5 min before class without finishing your required reading? Do you feel it takes forever to select the right articles for your literature review? "Sometimes I just don't get what the author is trying to say!" Let's learn the strategies to read fast and read for understanding in this workshop!

Topic	Organizing your academic writing
Time & Place	7-8PM, Tues, Jan 29, Miller 212 or 12-1PM, Thu, Jan 31, Miller 424 (lab)
Description	I can read effectively. Now what? Apply your reading skills to your writing! A good structure of your writing allows your audience to understand better. Let's learn how to convey our ideas in an efficient way.

Topic	Polishing your academic writing
Time & Place	7-8PM, Tues, Feb 5, Miller 212 or 12-1PM, Thu, Feb 7, Miller 424 (lab)
Description	This workshop will focus on some writing mechanics/tips to make your work perfect.

Topic	Writing your Human Subjects Form
Time & Place	7-8PM, Tues, Feb 19, Miller 212 or 12-1PM, Thu, Feb 21, Miller 424 (lab)
Description	Having your Human Subjects Form approved by the IRB is the foremost step before you start your research. We will walk you through the Human Subjects Form so that you will have a clear understanding on what IRB is asking for. People who are currently submitting a HSF are strongly encouraged to attend.

Bret Norris

Writing Center 421B Miller

bnorris@u.washington.edu

(p) 206 221 4117 (f) 206 543 9569

Hui-Ting (Tina) Wang

Office of International Student Support

201A Miller (enter from 203)

tinaw@u.washington.edu

(p) 206 543 1821 (f) 206 543 9569

