

Russian Language Programs at the University of Washington

July 9-20, 2012 (Teachers) | July 16-August 10, 2012 (Students)

<http://depts.washington.edu/startalk/>

Assessing Proficiency with LinguaFolio®: Getting Started

1. Review the Tutorials:

- <http://lfonetwork.uoregon.edu/learners/learnertutorial/>

2. Login to LinguaFolio Online: <https://linguafolio.uoregon.edu/>

User Name: _____ Password: _____

- Update your Profile (add languages) and Passport
- Update the Checklists starting with Novice Low and moving up

3. Add Evidence after you have checked a statement as “I can do this”: (Note: Be sure you have updated “Can Do” for the CanDo statement first (then the Evidence column will show “0”).)

For practice, try these:

- Novice Low, Presentational Writing: I can copy some characters and words.
CanDo: I can label some familiar things.
(Evidence: Type in a list of objects you see in the room around you)
- Novice Mid, Presentational Speaking: I can provide information about myself and my immediate surroundings using words, phrases, and memorized expressions.
CanDo: I can express my likes and dislikes using words, phrases, and memorized expressions.
(Evidence: Record which sports you like and dislike in simple words or phrases, e.g., I like baseball. I don't like football. Etc....)
- Novice High, Interpersonal Communication: I can exchange information about familiar tasks, topics, and activities.
CanDo: I can exchange information with other people about what to do, where to go, and when to meet.
(Evidence: Video a brief conversation where you invite and make plans with someone to do something or go somewhere.)

More resources: <http://lfonetwork.uoregon.edu/educators/linguafolio-for-startalk/>
<http://lfonetwork.uoregon.edu/educators/educators-tutorial/>