

Russian Language Programs at the University of Washington

July 9-20, 2012 (Teachers) | July 16-August 10, 2012 (Students)

<http://depts.washington.edu/startalk/>

Assessing Proficiency with LinguaFolio®: Completing Tasks

1. Review the proficiency levels so that you produce Evidence that matches the proficiency level. (For example, do not write paragraphs for a Novice level task.)

<http://lfonetwork.uoregon.edu/educators/evidence-exemplars/>

2. Login to LinguaFolio Online: <https://linguafolio.uoregon.edu/>

3. Go to the Tasks tab in your LFO portfolio (for Russian).

Find each Task, then click "Work on this Task."

- Presentational Writing, Novice Low:
CanDo: I can write my name.
- Presentational Writing, Novice Mid:
CanDo: I can write about myself using learned phrases and memorized expressions.
- Presentational Writing, Novice High:
CanDo: I can write about something I have learned using phrases and simple sentences.
- Presentational Writing, Intermediate Low:
CanDo: I can express my opinion on familiar topics using a series of sentences with some details.
- Presentational Writing, Intermediate Low:
CanDo: I can compare things using a series of sentences.
- Presentational Writing, Intermediate Mid:
CanDo: I can write personal communications on familiar topics using connected sentences with many details.
- Presentational Writing, Intermediate Mid:
CanDo: I can write a short report on a familiar topic using connected sentences with many details.
- Presentational Writing, Intermediate High:
CanDo: I can write descriptions or narratives in the present, past, and future using connected, detailed paragraphs.

4. Go to the Review Tab. Select My Evidence. Select each Mode and Level. Click the person icon next to each piece of Evidence so it can be shared.