

Teaching ADLs to Teens and Adults w/ ASD

The UW Autism Center is excited to present a workshop for parents, teachers, and providers to learn practical strategies to help guide individuals with ASD and increase their independence.

Wednesday, February 28, 2018

Interested in learning how to increase independence for the teens or adults with Autism Spectrum Disorder (ASD) in your life? In this workshop, participants will learn:

- How to determine what Activities of Daily Living (ADLs) are appropriate to teach and where to start when teaching
- Teaching strategies that are effective and manageable to implement
- How to set up a system of reinforcement that will maintain motivation and independence

SPACE IS LIMITED

WHEN

February 28, 2018
9:00AM – 1:00 PM

WHERE

UWAC - Tacoma

COST

$105 per person

TO REGISTER GO TO: <https://www.regonline.com/adl022818>

Advanced registration is required.

Questions? Email us at uwautism@uw.edu or call us at 206-221-6806.