Improving Social Navigation and Social Skills Instruction

Workshop Description: The "unspoken" rules governing social skills are quite challenging for individuals with ASD. Participants will learn basic tools and strategies for assessing and teaching social skills to increase successful social interactions.

Who should attend: Educators and providers working with students with ASD

Instructors: Kathryn Holley, M.Ed., BCBA and Patricia Matestic, Ph.D.

To register: <https://www.regonline.com/oesd2019>

Teaching Executive Functioning and Emotion Regulation Skills

Workshop Description: Individuals with ASD often experience amplified emotional responses and poor emotional control. In this workshop participants will learn what emotion regulation (ER) and executive functioning are, why they are important, how deficits in executive functioning and ER impact students' abilities to succeed, and strategies to teach and support individuals with ASD to better regulate their emotions and improve executive functioning skills.

Who should attend: Educators and providers working with students with ASD

Instructors: Kathryn Holley, M.Ed., BCBA and Patricia Matestic, Ph.D.
