

COVID-19 TELE-PSYCHOLOGY ASD DIAGNOSTIC CONSULTATION GROUP

During this unprecedented time of social distancing, psychologists at the UW Autism Center have been successfully utilizing tele-health diagnostic procedures with families in an effort to increase access to services. Our approach is informed by the Vanderbilt TELE-ASD-PEDS model. We seek to share our experiences and to hear from other practitioners who have tried or are interested in trying remote ASD diagnostics with children. Psychologists or other medical professionals with ASD diagnostic practices are welcome to attend.

Consultation Group Objectives:

- Learn from attendees about best practices for ASD diagnostic evaluations for children
- Provide consultation support through weekly meetings with psychologists and other medical providers who regularly diagnose ASD
- Develop the capacity to utilize this model post-COVID-19 to serve remote communities

WHEN

Wednesdays
May 6 – June 24, 2020
4:00-5:00 PM PT

WHERE

Zoom Meeting

COST

Free!

SPACE IS LIMITED

To register, visit: <https://redcap.link/m63xmcqy>.

Advanced registration is required.

Email us at uwactrain@uw.edu

Visit us at www.uwautism.org

Call us at
1-877-408-UWAC