

Systems of Success for the Special Education Classroom

Systems and routines are vital to special education classrooms. Systems add predictability and structure to the day, which leads to more independence and greater success for students AND staff. In this workshop we will use picture and video examples from special education classrooms and expert feedback and recommendations for implementing systems for success. Participants can expect engaging activities and real solutions to help run an effective and successful special education classroom.

Course Objectives:

- Learn about systems to support effective classroom transitions
- Learn about systems to support effective instruction with students
- Learn about systems to support effective data collection in the classroom
