Project ECHO (Extension for Community Healthcare Outcomes) is an online cohort of parents of children 0-3 recently diagnosed with autism. Our goal is to build community, provide support for learning, and share resources for parents.

This is a research study and parent group. Participants spend time each week listening to a short presentation, then will engage in discussion together about situations that are occurring in parents’ daily lives.

Join our ECHO community! Parents of children 0-3 recently diagnosed with autism welcome.

Our project aims to support parents; eligible participants must:

- Have a child 0-3 years old, recently diagnosed with autism
- Sign consent to participate
- Complete pre-/post-surveys and attend virtual sessions

Each session will include a brief presentation covering a range of topics. Examples include adjusting to a new diagnosis, finding providers, learning during daily routines, etc.
