Giving Effective Instructions

- 1. Reduce distractions before giving an instruction. (e.g., shut off TV/ stereo.)
- 2. Make eye contact.
- 3. Say child's name.
- 4. Use a firm voice. Sound as if you expect to be listened to; businesslike; not angry or shrill.

5. Be clear about what you want the child to do.

Good instruction: "Sally, please pick up your dirty socks." Bad instruction: "You are such a pig. How can you sleep in a room like that?" If you give a direct instruction, it's more difficult for your child to ignore you.

6. State the instruction as an instruction.

Not a request, favor, or question.

Good instruction: "Please take out the garbage. It's time to go to bed, please put your pajamas on."

Poor instructions: "Will you take out the garbage for me. Don't you think it's time to go to bed now?"

7. Give only one instruction at a time.

If you give more than one, you increase the chance that your child will tune you out.

8. Always praise/reward as soon as your child follows an instruction.

It makes it more likely that your child will listen to your next instruction & it makes listening more enjoyable for the child.
