1986 Law Librarianship Graduates

After a hectic week at the AALL annual meeting in Washington, D.C., our five almost law librarianship graduates will be doing their fieldwork experience in these law libraries:

Timothy Blake will be with Bruce Johnson at the University of North Carolina.

Mary Mahoney will be with Earl Borgeson at Southern Methodist.

Chris O'Rourke will be with Janet Tracy at Fordham University.

Lisa Satterlund with Katherine Henderson at McGeorge.

Yongman Zhang with Pat Kehoe at American University.

My thanks to these fieldwork hosts who play such an important role in the education of law librarians.

1986 AALL Annual Meeting

As you know, the student members of AALL pay a daily fee to attend the AALL Annual Meeting, a fee that does not include tickets to meal and social functions. Because I feel these are important functions for these students to attend, I will act as a clearinghouse for unused tickets. Please leave for me (I will be at the Sheraton) any tickets you or your friends do not plan to use. The students will be appreciative. Our conventions are expensive these days, and the cost of these functions is virtually prohibitive.

Oral History of the Gallagher Law Library

An exciting project, funded by the Washington Law School Foundation, is underway. Mary Ann Andersen has interviewed Mrs. Gallagher, Betty Wilkins, Viola Bird and others in an attempt to piece together an oral history of the Gallagher Law Library. The edited transcripts will be available in September 1986. We'll keep you posted on this worthwhile project.
Law Librarianship Program

To date, two applicants have completed their files for admission to the program next year and have been accepted.

One change has been made in the program itself. All students admitted will be required to take Introduction to Legal Bibliography, Libr.544, unless waived because of substantial education or experience with legal bibliographic tools.

Alumni Reunion

We hope you will all plan to attend the alumni breakfast in Washington, D.C. July 7, 1986. We are having real food—not just rolls and coffee—and because of a generous donation by Mrs. Gallagher, your cost is a mere $6.50.

I thought I might raise the question about the time and format of this alumni meeting. A continental breakfast at the Sheraton would have been $9 per person (including tax and gratuity). A full breakfast with eggs and so on would be $12. Would you rather pay the higher price and get more or the $9 for rolls and coffee? Would a wine and cheese affair on Sunday, Monday or Tuesday afternoon be preferable? I know the breakfast conflicts with many other meetings. I will try to get a consensus at the July meeting. In the meantime, we have included a ballot on the invitation, enclosed.
