

You can also access a community portal with a wealth of tools and resources that support healthcare transformation at HealthcareCommunities.org. The site has features that help the quality improvement efforts of organizations and individuals by enabling them to share their knowledge, resources and experiences. These features include:

- Document sharing
- Announcements
- Topic-specific Listservs and forums
- Social media connections
- A quality improvement resource library
- A video library
- A calendaring function
- Where applicable, access to CSI Solutions' secure data reporting site used to measure performance in both small and large improvement initiatives.
