If you can acquire an instrument on your own through a family member or friend, lucky you! Just make sure it is looked over first by a reputable repair person (see music stores above). If instruments aren't kept in good condition, they can be even HARDER to play.

Some schools do have a very limited supply of school instruments to rent for the school year; these are on a first come, first serve basis. Contact me if interested. I like to leave this option for those that are in financial need.

I know this is a bit overwhelming, so please feel free to call me at Totem if you have any questions or concerns. Don't let your child miss out if it just seems too expensive. If they want to learn bad enough, and you feel they will take it seriously, we can find a way.

Please detach bottom of page and place in my box at your child's school. I hope to see your child in orchestra!!

Sincerely,

Miss Heather DeHart, string teacher
